

Coming soon....The new and improved LEARNING COMMONS!

The library is no longer only to be used to house and check out books as well as use computers.... We hope it will become a place where students can learn to be critical thinkers, work collaboratively with others and where their uniqueness as learners can be explored! The new learning commons has the student at the centre and works as a learning laboratory that is the foundation of all learning at the school. Our future plans include purchasing new furniture, resources and technologies in order to make this all happen. Stop in to see Ms. Cummings (Learning Commons Co-ordinator) or Mr. Roberts (Library Assistant) to contribute your ideas. We look forward to meeting you!
